SEVEN ENERGY CENTER RESONANT VIEW: Shows the resonant colors of each individual chakra. Report shows size, frequency and volume.

AURA SIZE: Your Aura size is made up of frequency and volume. These qualities can show how far your influence and energy can extend, the strength of your energy, and the quality of your vibrations.

FREQUENCY:

The higher your frequency the more distance your aura can travel.

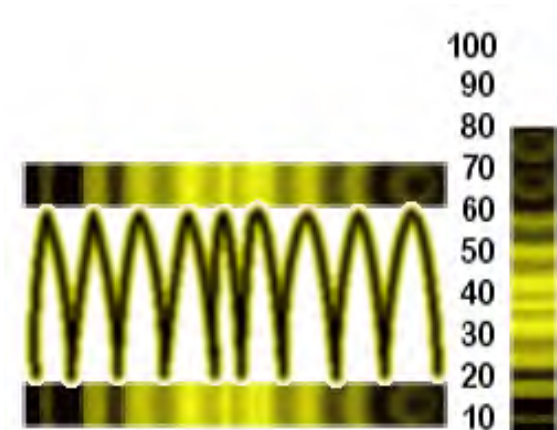

Very high frequency, far reaching influence. Comfortable in organizational or political settings.

High frequency shows a strong presence. You have a powerful influence that may extend a moderate distance.

Low frequency shows limited distance of influence.

VOLUME:

Volume shows the amount of energy you project, the intensity of your auric influence on physical things close to you, the strength of your aura, and the level of protection your energy provides.

High Volume yellow energy makes it easy for you to have fun with people.

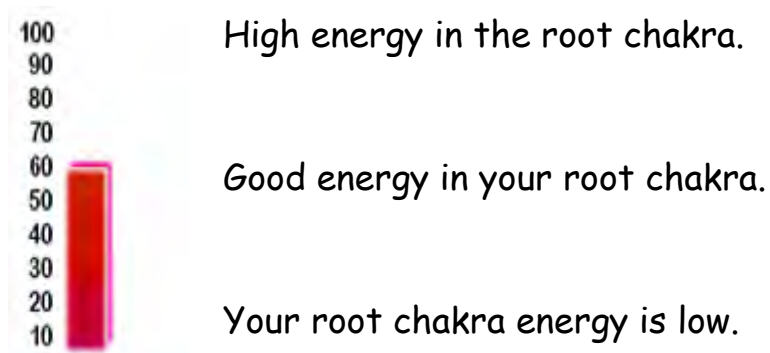

Medium energy volume shows you have a strong presence.

Low Volume. Very little physical influence.

The Energy of your Chakras: As you learn more about your Chakras and life energy that flows in them you will be better able to find the remedies or therapies that best suit you.

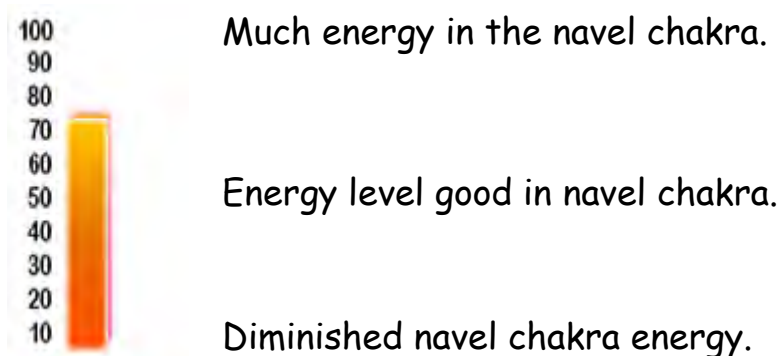

ROOT CHAKRA:

This Chakra is located at the base of the spine. The energies that physically manifests as physical stamina, wealth or business success arise here.

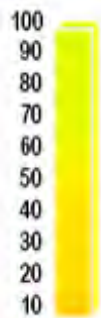

NAVEL (SEX) CHAKRA:

Located below the navel. The energies concerning creativity, sociability, and sexual vitality flow here.

SOLAR PLEXUS CHAKRA:

Located in the physical solar plexus, this chakra is our seat of self-esteem and ego. The energy of our creative and personal power flows here.

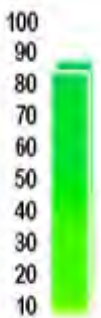

Solar plexus chakra energy high.

Solar plexus chakra is normal.

Solar plexus chakra energy is low.

HEART CHAKRA:

This chakra surrounds the heart and bathes the physical organ with its energy. Our energies of love and spiritual growth originate here. Colors seen in the heart chakra often relate to influences coming into your life.

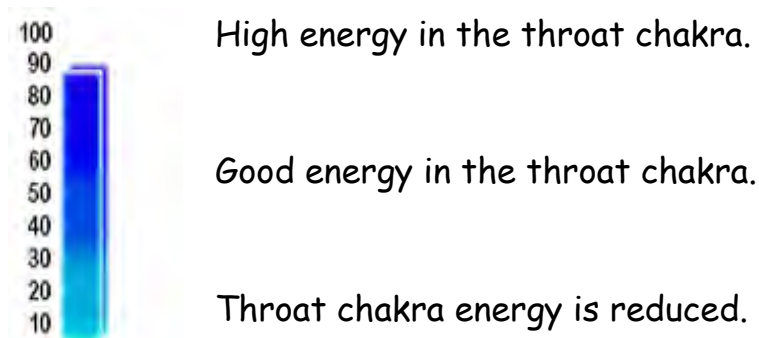

Powerful heart chakra energy.

Normal heart chakra energy.

Your heart chakra is at a lower energy level.

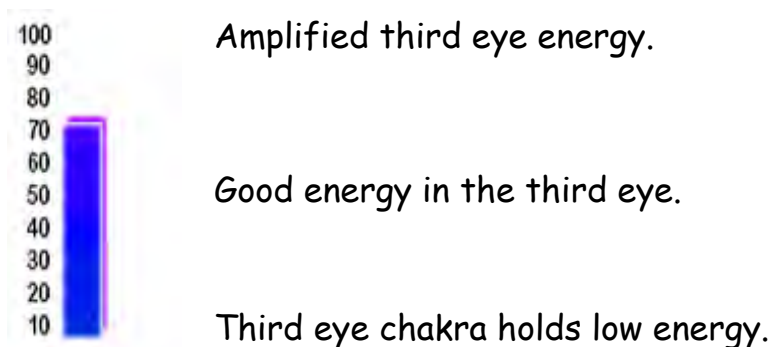

THROAT CHAKRA:

The chakra surrounds the throat and vocal organs. The energy here manifests in our vocal, communicative, and social qualities. Colors seen here sometimes relate to feelings we wish to express, but are not yet able to. Or they can relate to our level of need to communicate.

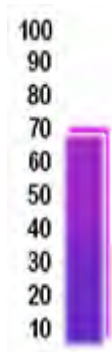

THIRD EYE CHAKRA:

The chakra is located between our eyes. Running through this chakra are the energies governing intuition, psychic abilities, and vision into the non-physical realms.

CROWN CHAKRA:

The light here is the energy bonding us with the Divine. Our enlightening and spiritual energy develops here.

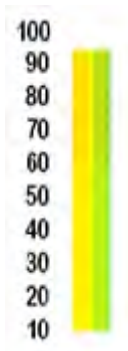

Enhanced energy in the crown chakra.

Energy in the crown chakra is balanced.

Crown chakra energy is reduced.

BALANCE:

Graph shows Resonant balance.

Very balanced very harmonious aura.

Balanced chakra shows harmonious energy.

Very unbalanced. Shows stressed aura.

YOUR SOUL MATE:

Your love color can be useful for selecting a new mate or recognizing your soul mate. It can also be helpful for understanding your close relationships. Most of us are attracted to people whose colors compliment ours, because diverging colors often fill missing qualities. Couples with similar love colors tend to experience more harmony in their relationships.

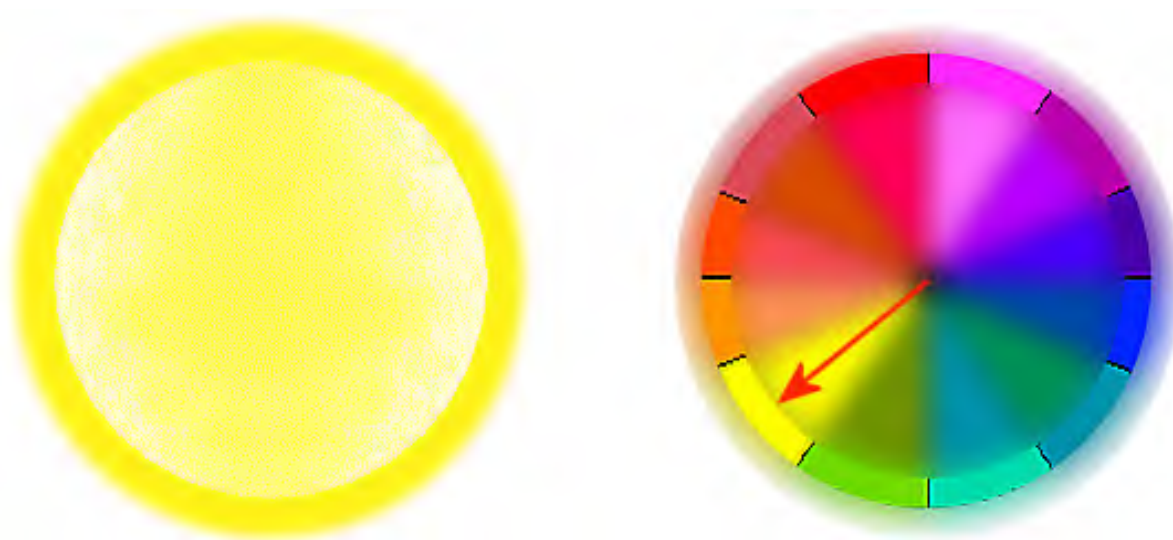

YELLOW LOVE:

Joy and happiness surround you now, and with your innate leadership ability, your excitement is contagious for all those closest to you. Because life is your playground you enjoy your relationships with a child's sense of fun. A partner who compliments your yellow with rich blue tones may find that you infuse them with your happy and optimistic attitude. You will likely discover that such a person brings a sense of maturity and quiet to your life. However, a person with these blue tones may not be quite as physically playful as someone who, like you, has golden or yellow energy. Still, you may find that if you are with a person who is too much like you, it may be difficult to determine who has the ball when you are trying to make stressful decisions. Either way, your optimism and curious intellect will serve you well in most intimate relationships.

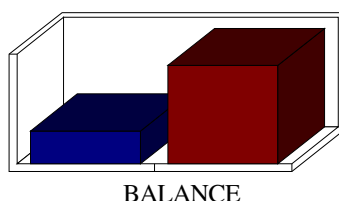

YOUR COLOR SIGN:

If you begin using Aura Imaging regularly you will soon notice a predominant color. You can analyse your color sign or overall color on the Bar graph page. We also call this your resonant color. This particular color is similar to your astrological sun sign because it describes your general personal makeup or personality. The color in the Aura may change dramatically due to stress, relaxation, or life transitions, but will usually return to the original pattern and predominant color once you return to a more balanced state.

COLOR SIGN YELLOW:

Yours is a Primary color, the color of the intellect. It brings forth warmth, light and communication with a sense of excitement and joy. Your closest resonant planet is Mercury, whose vibration is positive and optimistic.

Graph shows left-right or YIN-YANG energy. If the right is higher than the left you have a predominance of YIN(passive energy). If the left is higher you tend towards YANG(active energy).

CENTER (EXPERIENCE):

The color seen over your head is what you are experiencing for yourself now. It's the color that would best describe you now. If the color is high it could mean current aspirations or what you now feel you wish to be.

YELLOW CENTER:

Joy and happiness surround you now. Your excitement is contagious. Life is your playground. You make everything fun. Even the most tedious of household tasks become a game for you because you infuse everything with a sense of playfulness. At heart you are a happy, laughing child. You also have a bright and curious intellect hungry for new and exciting ideas.

LEFT SIDE (FUTURE):

The color on the left side is normally the vibration coming into your being. The closer it is to you the sooner it will be felt. Perhaps within a few moments, hours or as long as a few months.

BLUE LEFT:

Blue is the "communication" color which indicates that you are a sensitive and intuitive listener, able to transform and heal others through your loving attention. You may be coming upon a good time for learning since you are in a particularly receptive state. Trust your intuition because it will lead you to learn about things which are important for your soul's evolution and growth. Peaceful times are in your future.

RIGHT SIDE (EXPRESSION):

The color on the right side is traditionally the energy being expressed. It is the vibrational frequency most likely seen or felt by others around you. Many times your friends will think this is the energy that you are made of, however, it is what you are putting out to the world.

RED RIGHT:

You work extremely hard at whatever you do. You desire intensity of experience and fullness of living. You dive head first into whatever it is you are doing. Passion could be your middle name. You long for adventure, yet at the same time you are down to earth and practical.

THROAT (COMMUNICATION):

The color of the throat chakra is traditionally the energy being expressed. The vibrational frequency most likely seen or felt by others around you. Many times your friends will think this is the energy that you are made of. However, it is the energy you are putting out into the world.

AQUAMARINE THROAT:

You wish to achieve inner peace and create harmony in the world. Not only must you feel peaceful, you also feel the need to teach and foster peace in others. You may wish to change the world by helping others to achieve well being, or perhaps through creating beauty in the environment through the arts. You are practical and diligent as well as spiritual and sensitive.

HEART (EMPATHY):

The color on the heart chakra center represents your vibration of connection, affinity, compassion and empathy. How you feel about yourself and others is reflected here. If you feel intense passion for someone or something the energy in this center will be very strong.

ORANGE HEART:

What you desire most in life is self-expression, autonomy, independence, and freedom. You are an original thinker and a risk taker. You must live life on your terms in order to be happy. You are carefree, imaginative, and ready for adventure. You may be inspired and excited about a new creative project or endeavor.

SOLAR PLEXUS (POWER):

The color on the solar plexus is normally the center vibration of your being. The Solar Plexus is associated with power or wealth, and is called the "money pot" by the Hindus. This is the center of self-esteem and ego.

GREEN/YELLOW SOLAR PLEXUS:

You are joyfully full of fresh ideas. Yellow is the color of the intellect and green is the color of growth and change. A greenish yellow color therefore indicates that your ideas are changing in many areas. This is a growing time in which your outlook and attitudes are going through a transformational process. You feel the courage to feel joyful and hopeful about all the wonderful "newness" that surrounds you.

SEX (CREATIVITY):

This energy center of the body is about playfulness, sociability, and one's emotional life. It is a profound source of creativity, joy and pleasure that is nurturing, healing and bonding, and sexuality in adults. Many religions consider sex sinful. This belief can create a source of guilt, fear and shame. When the energy in this area is balanced, the person will probably have a healthy positive attitude toward basic love. The sexual center is the position from which one reaches out, expands and relates to others.

GREEN/YELLOW SEX:

Compassion and idealism mixed with a sense of fun would best describe your present attitude toward life and relationships at this point. You have serious goals and ideals and have natural compassion towards all of humanity, yet you wish to enjoy yourself while you work. Just because you are serious about accomplishing something with your life does not mean you live your life seriously. This color in your sex chakra indicates that you are fun to be around and that you inspire others with your happy and hopeful attitude. In love you may be spontaneous and playful yet very caring toward your partner.

ROOT (GROUNDING):

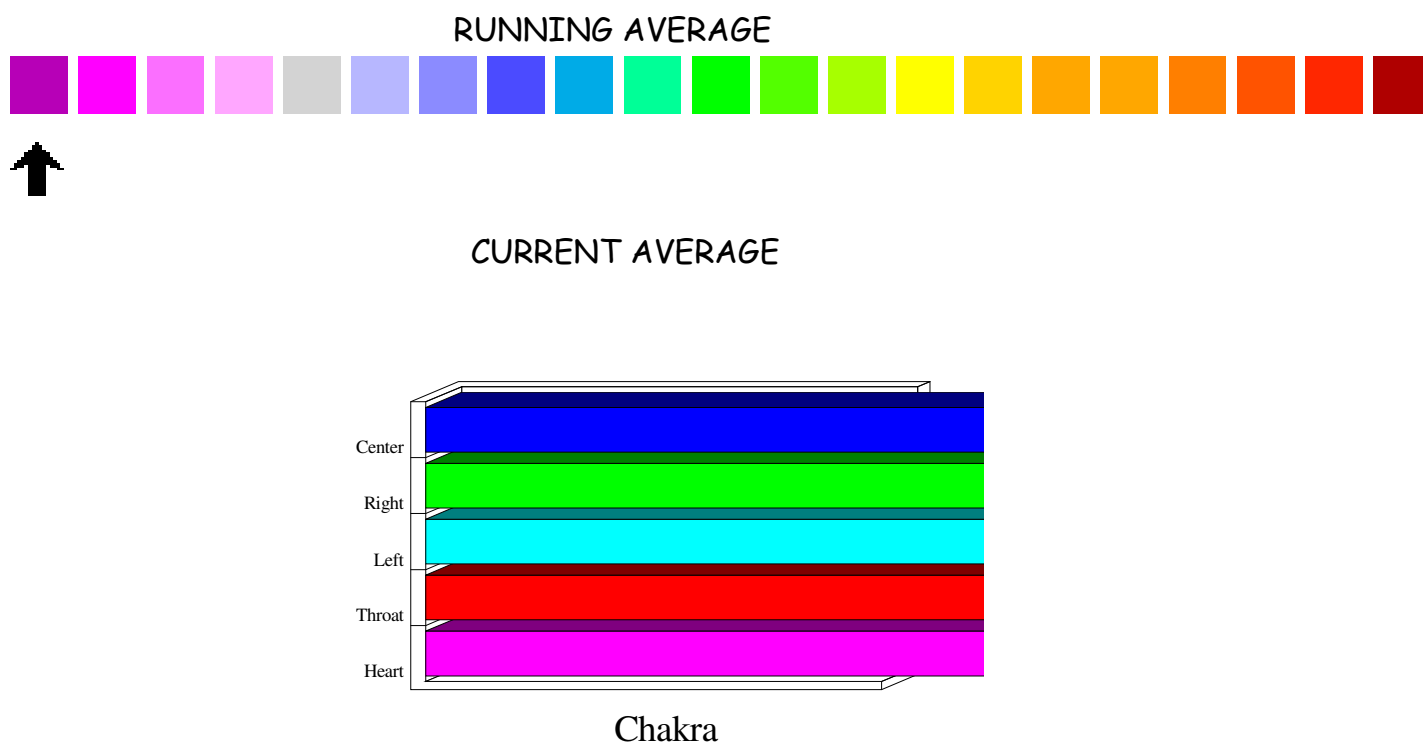

The color in the area of the root chakra is traditionally the energy of the physical plane and material reality. People with strong energy in this center usually have a red color and possess good survival skills. This is also the center of manifestation. If you are trying to succeed in the world either by making more money, establishing a business, or accumulating possessions, you will be focusing your energy here. This is also the place from which passion flows. It is the source of power and ego development.

GOLD ROOT:

You glow with a radiance that lights up any environment that you enter. You feel and know that you are a shining star, and people recognize you as someone special. The gold color of your root chakra symbolizes the warmth, optimism, humor, and natural joy that inspire all those who encounter you. The personality you show the world is hopeful and confident. This golden energy enables you to be a great comfort and inspiration to others. Your presence uplifts the spirits of those around you. You are a natural entertainer or spiritual leader. Worldly success is inevitable.

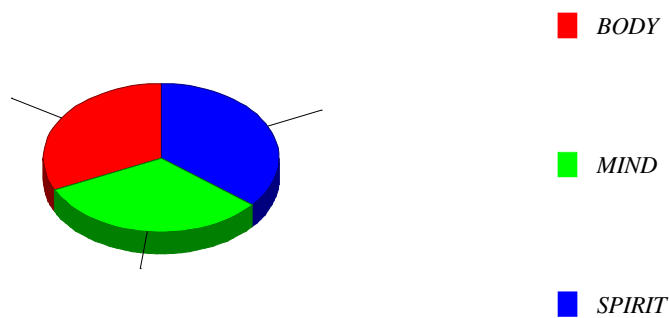

AVERAGE (OVERALL):

The following bar graphs summarize the color intensities of various elements of your Aura. Your average aura color is a balancing point. For example if your aura is vibrating between red and purple or white at the other end of the color spectrum, your balancing point would be right in the middle at green. Changes in our life will fluctuate colors wildly between opposite ends of the color spectrum. When we settle ourselves the aura color may begin to resonate at the balancing point or average color, and the aura may show more consistent, resonant single colors.

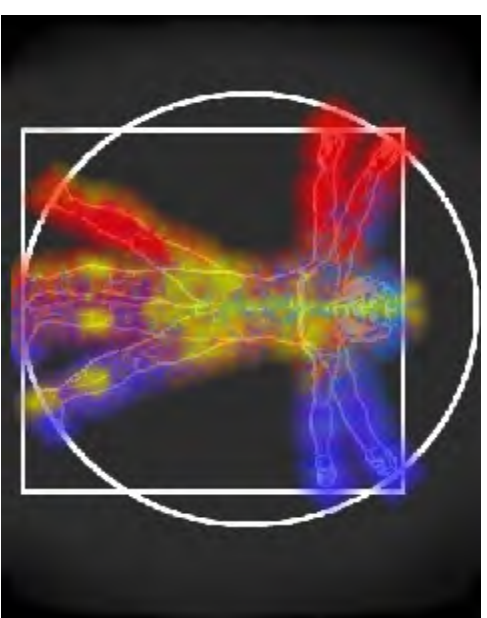

YELLOW OVERALL:

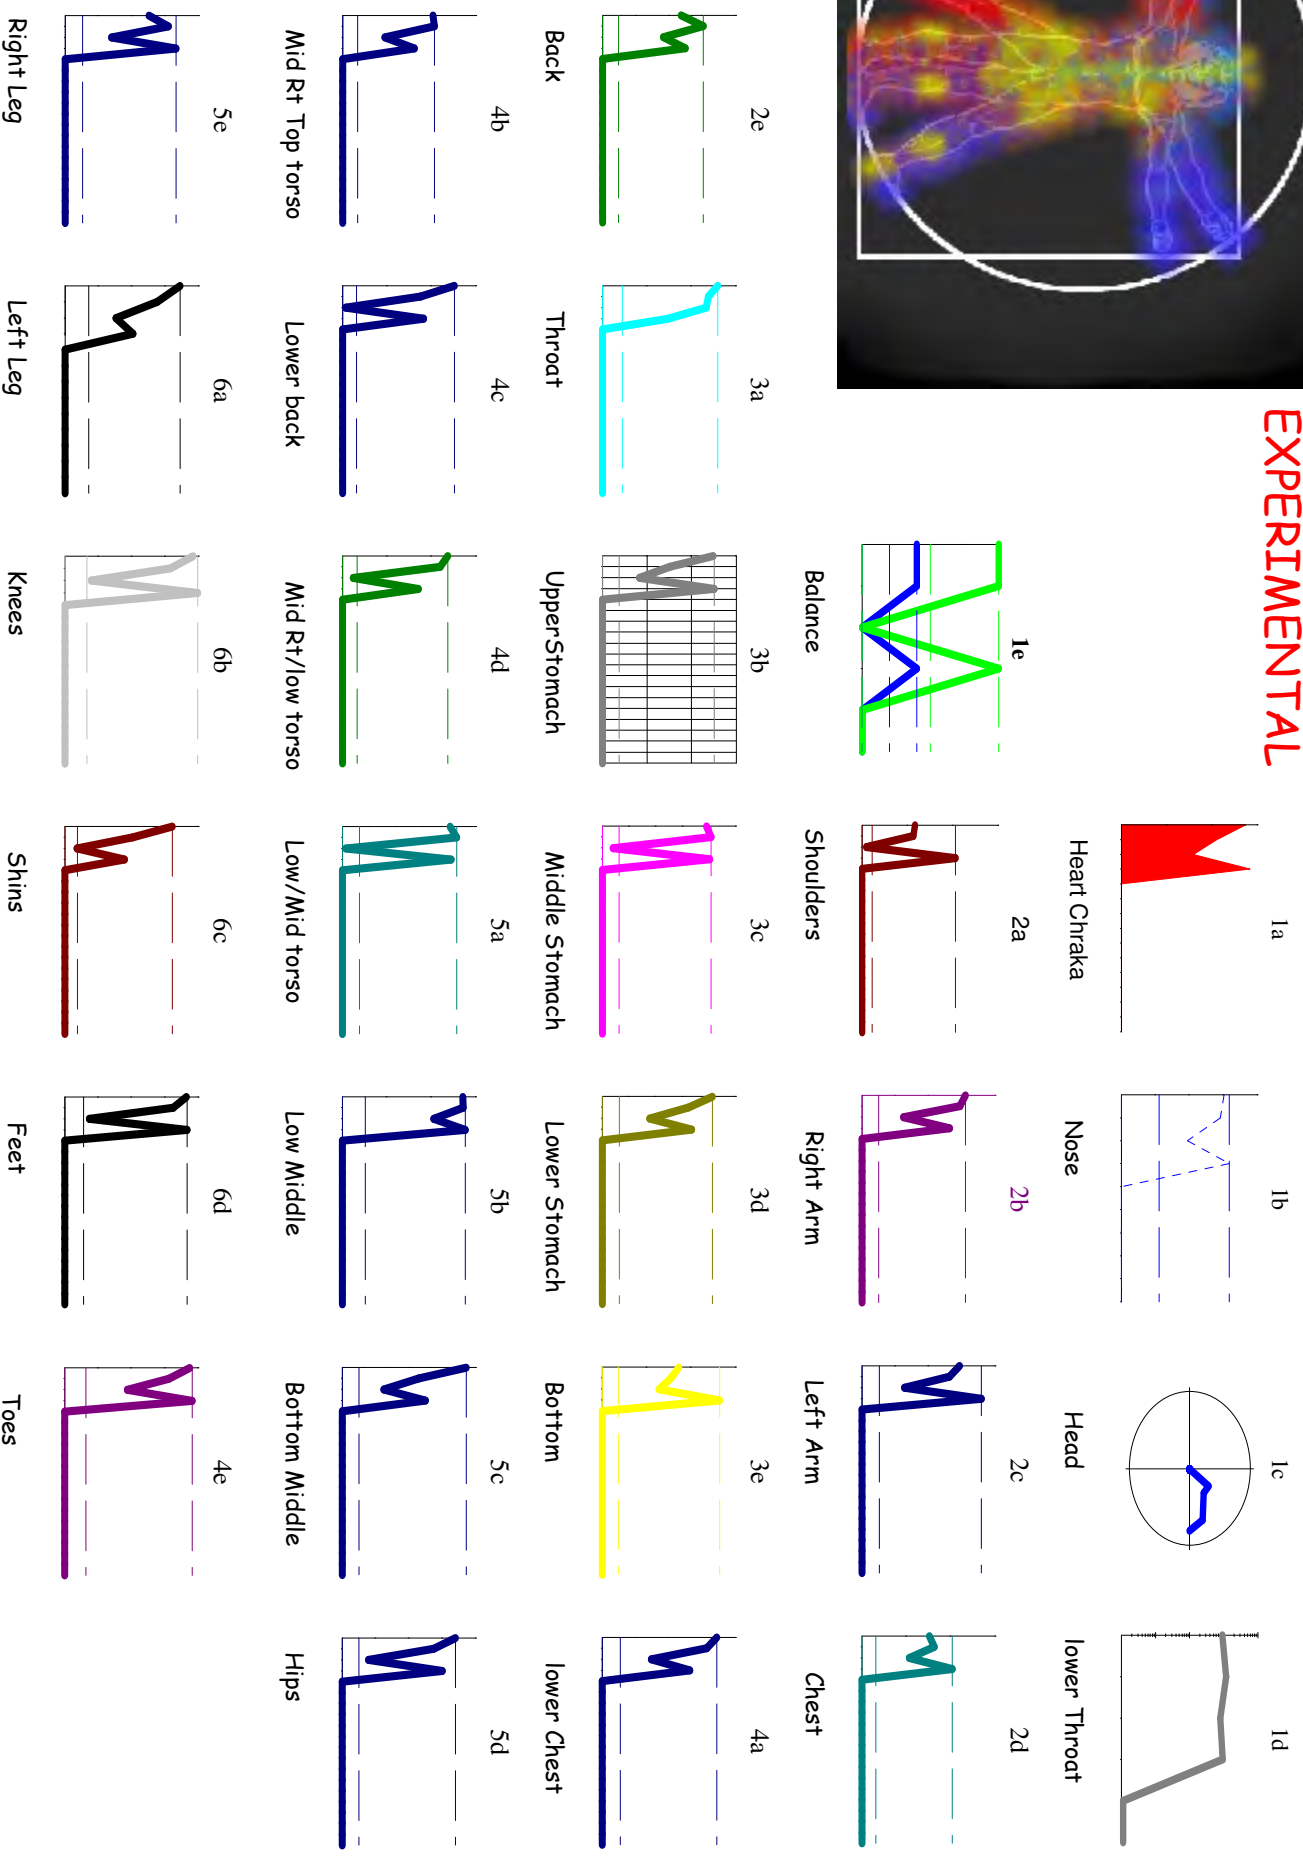

Yellows are representative of the intellect. Each shade or tint of yellow expresses a type of function, ability or expression of the intellect, from the craftiness of a mustard yellow to the high, intellectual thought of a golden yellow. You approach your future with a sense of excitement and joy. Your future is bound to be thought provoking. Like the rising sun, yellow brings forth warmth and light as you approach your future with a sense of excitement and joy.

This mind, body, and spirit graph shows in what proportions you are focusing the predominance of your energy. If the circle or pie is cut into equal sections you are a multifaceted, adaptable person, able to enjoy many various and divergent activities. You have an open mind, and are not attached to a single way of thinking or being. You are easily able to shift your awareness from one state to another without resistance. A predominance of Mind indicates that at this point in time your focus is cerebral, and you are probably mainly concerned with knowledge, new ideas, problem solving, intellectual communication and creativity. You may enjoy working with computers and organizing data. You feel most comfortable when you can use logic, systems and statistics to substantiate your ideas and theories. You may see green or yellow in your aura. A predominance of Body indicates that at this time you are primarily relating to the world through your five physical senses and body sensations. You feel your emotions through your body, especially the solar plexus center, or third chakra. You may see more of the warmer colors in your aura such as red, yellow and orange. This may also be a time when you are feeling full of energy and able to enjoy and appreciate the natural world more. You may like to exercise outdoors or go camping, fishing, hiking, etc. Your physical well-being and natural environment are very important to you now. A predominance of Spirit indicates that your dreams, imagination, wishes, fantasies, artistic projects, self expression, and spiritual life are most important to you at this point in time. The practical realities of life probably hold little interest to you now. You march to the beat of your own inner drummer. You may enjoy deep meditation, prayer, or artistic pursuits. Your psychic and clairvoyant abilities may be awakening, and your synchronistic experiences may be truly miraculous. You may see more of the cooler colors in your aura such as blue, purple or white.
